

New York State GIS Association

Welcome to the Association

The New York State GIS Association is a growing non-profit organization for New York professionals involved in Geographic Information Systems (GIS), Global Positioning Systems (GPS), Land Information Systems (LIS), remote sensing, automated mapping and related geospatial technologies. The organization is designed for those involved in the GIS community to exchange knowledge and ideas regarding important topics facing the industry. The Association promotes a forum for open discussion regarding the direction of the GIS profession.

Our Vision

Our vision is to grow a professional society that promotes GIS as an industry and helps to further opportunities for GIS professionals. The Association welcomes and encourages additional involvement from government administrators, managers, educators and all geospatial technology professionals.

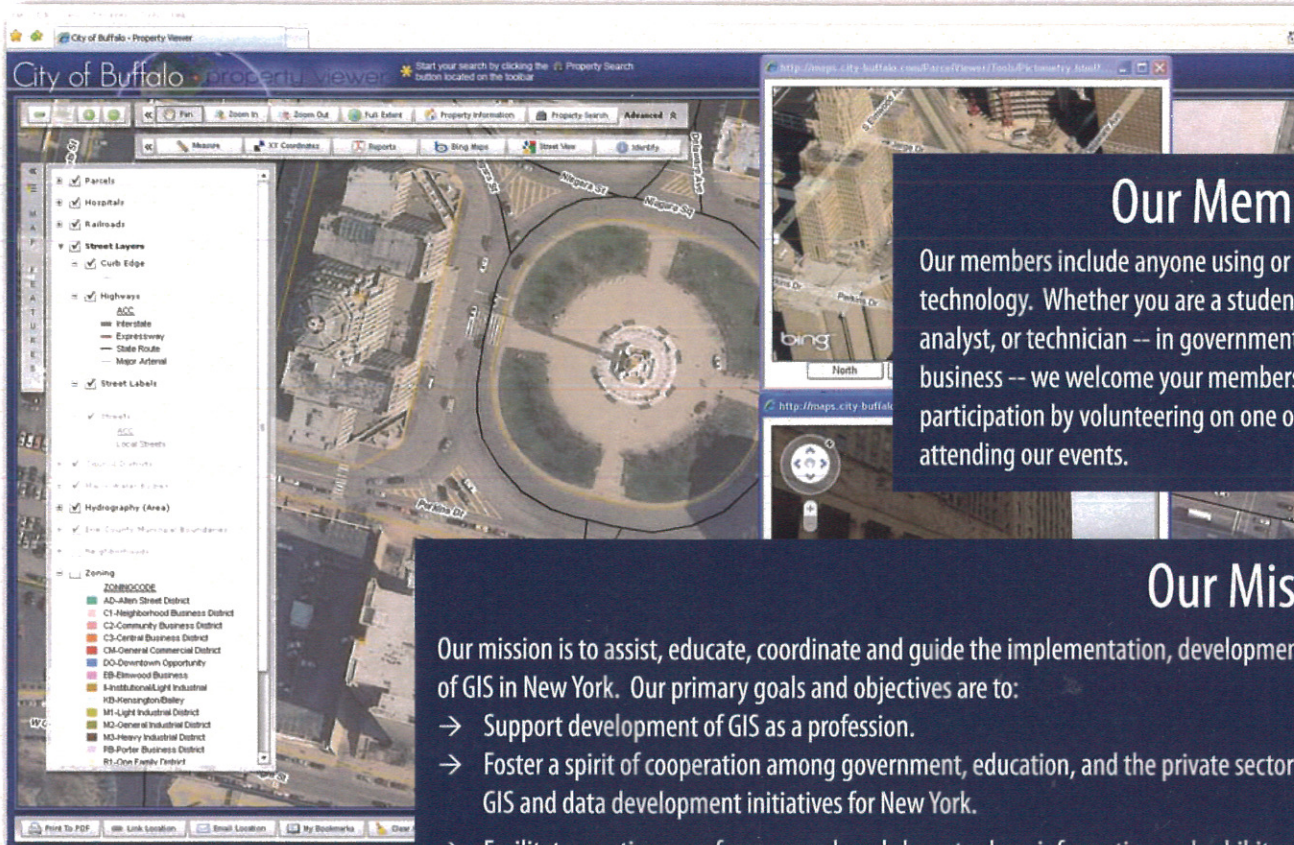

Join Now!

Join now and strengthen New York's growing professional GIS community. Your support is the key to our success.

Your membership fee will help to underwrite conferences, scholarships, training, awards and certification, and are an indispensable component of advancing the legacy of our profession within New York State.

To learn more about our organization, get involved, or become a member, visit our website at www.nysgis.org.

www.nysgis.org

Our Members

Our members include anyone using or interested in geospatial technology. Whether you are a student, professor, manager, analyst, or technician -- in government, education, or private business -- we welcome your membership and encourage participation by volunteering on one of our committees and attending our events.

Our Mission

Our mission is to assist, educate, coordinate and guide the implementation, development and maintenance of GIS in New York. Our primary goals and objectives are to:

- Support development of GIS as a profession.
- Foster a spirit of cooperation among government, education, and the private sector in addressing priority GIS and data development initiatives for New York.
- Facilitate meetings, conferences and workshops to share information and exhibit products and services.
- Publish documents & educational materials, and promote education in GIS and geospatial technologies.

Benefits of Membership

The NYS GIS Association represents the interests of the entire geospatial community within New York and is the premier, statewide, professional organization for the GIS and related industries. NYSGISA helps to underwrite conferences, scholarships, training, certification and awards and has the strongest role in advancing the legacy of our profession within New York State. Join the NYS GIS Association today and make a difference in GIS in NYS!

- Become a part of New York's only statewide professional GIS association.
- Learn from geospatial professionals at Association statewide and regional meetings and conferences.
- Keep abreast of the latest GIS events and job opportunities.
- Promote professionalism and certification within the GIS community.
- Expand the use of GIS in other professions.
- Impact legislation and other issues affecting GIS in New York State.
- Obtain credit towards GIS certification.
- Promote learning through our annual GeoSpatial Summit and GIS Conference.

Our Regions

Go to our website www.nysgis.org to contact your regional group coordinator. Regional groups meet regularly for educational seminars, presentations, and fun events. Participate by offering to present your GIS work, or just attend.

